The Woman's Foreign Missionary Socie ty of the presbytery of Washington held its twenty-first annual meeting at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday. Thirty-three churches were very generally repre-

called the meeting to order at 10 o'clock a.m., and introduced the Rev. Donald C. MacLeod, the new pastor of the First Church, who, after giving a brief address on the universal mind and purpose of Jesus Christ, led the devotional exercises by reading the second chapter of St. John. The Rev. Dr. Byron Sunderland, venerable pastor emeritus of the church, led in the open port for the year of Mrs. G. F., the recording secretary, was elo-good works. The report of the Mrs. C. B. Balley, showed a iling off in receipts, those of last ng $4.085.59, while those of this but $4.015.48 notwithstanding an of about forty new auxiliary so-nd hands.

and an increased subscription list.

Mrs. O. B. Brown made a few remarks on the auxiliary work, and Miss Jennie Taylor read a report on the young people's work, after which Mrs. Culbertson gave a brief address on the twenty-first anniversary of the society, snowing increase and progress, and outlining ways and means of sectring the interest and co-operation of those who are communicants of the church and do not share in its greatest work. A eting, June 19, at Manassas, in connec n with the home missionary branch, was corably considered.

At 2 o'clock a young people's hour was given, presided over by Miss Taylor. Brief addresses on the best way to work among boys and girls to get them interested in the missfonary cause followed, with general discussion. These who participated were Miss Taylor, Mrs. Speidel, Miss Miller, Mrs. Henderson, Miss Laws, Miss Perkins and Miss Little.

This was followed by a spiritual talk on "The Need of Personal Work," by Mrs. Wallace Radeliffe, and prayer by Mrs. Laws, a former president of the society. Committees were then announced as follows: Public meetings, Mrs. Allen Wall, chairman; correspondence, the Misses Easby; resolutions, Mrs. Jos. Kelly, chairman; on prayer meetings, Mrs. O. B. Brown, chairman; auditing, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Moore; press, Mrs. Isaac Pearson.

Sketch of Syria.

Sketch of Syria.

A young Syrian girl, a Christian, born in Tiberius, on the Sea of Galilee, was intro-duced, and in excellent English, almost without accent, gave a clever sketch of an cient Syria in its darkness, and compared it to the modern Syria, enlightened by Chris tianity, introduced by American mission-aries. Schools established by the Presby-terian board, she said, have made the an-cient backe of scholarship, a brass in stand worn in the belt, a sign of ignorance in-stead.

This young woman began going to school the age of four years, and continued in a humbler institution until she was ten, en she went to the higher school at frut. She was costumed yesterday as Bethlehem maidens were 2,000 years ago, and as they are in the town of their nativ-today. drs. McNair, a missionary from Japan, Mrs. McNair, a missionary from Japan, called attention to the great hardship on missionaries involved by the late order of the new minister of education there, for-bidding the teaching of Christianity in any of the government schools, the objection being that Christian schools taught republican principles. As all Japanese young men attending a licensed school are exempt from conscription until they are twenty-right years of age, they naturally give those schools the preference, and, therefore, much is lost in the Christian cause. Since the new treaties all foreigners are under Japanese control, it is stated, and the Japanese take great national pride in being the first oriental nation to rank with Christian nations. It is a saying in Japan, Christian nations. It is a saying in Japan, said Mrs. McNair, that "a law is made, and then a way made to avoid it," and she believes there is hope that the objectionable restriction may be withdrawn. Thirty newspapers in Japan speak of it as an act of retrogression. This order does not apply to kindergartens.

Mrs. Roach addressed the society on the value of inter-denominational union. A meeting will be held with that object for discussion in Foundry Church, Thursday, March 29, at 10 a.m., delegates having been appointed.

Resolutions were presented by Mrs. Gist, thanking the officers for their efficient services during the past year, and also the pastor and ladies of First Church and others who had been instrumental in promoting the success of the annual meeting. Mrs. O. B. Brown offered prayer, and Rev. Mr. McLeod pronounced the benediction.

CLAIMS COMBS SHOT GOEBEL.

Sergeant Golden's Confession Implientes a Kentucky Mulatto. A dispatch from Louisville, Ky., last night says: The stories growing out of the conference between Sergt. F. Wharton Golden of the Barbourville company of state militia and the attorneys who are managing the investigation of the assassination of Gov. Goebel have caused a sensation throughout the state.

The story is published that Golden has divulged to the attorneys the name of the man who fired the shots that killed Goebel. The person mentioned is a mulatto named Combs, who formerly lived at Winchester. Combs, who formerly lived at Winchester.

was prominent in the French-Eversole feud and is known as a dead shot. This man is now supposed to be in the wilds of one of the mountain counties. Evidence that he was in Frankfort at the time of the assasination was found among papers taken from W. H. Culton, a clerk in the auditor's office, when the latter was arrested a week or so ago on a warrant charging him with being an accessory to the murder. Among these papers were receipts for board bills amounting to about $300, incurred by eighteen men, who were in Frankfort for some time before and at the time Gov. Goebel was shot. In one of these receipts the name of the mulatto mentioned is given. The receipt in this case is for money received from John Perkins by Bettina Pittman for the board of three men. Perkins is a porter about the state house.

Conditions.

They Can Comprehend Features

In the course of a visit to the White House yesterday afternoon, Secretary Root gave the President the results of his observations of affairs in Cuba. He subse quently made a statement to the press Naturally, the question of the ultimate in dependence of the island came up for disba, but he was not prepared to say just when the United States government would be willing that this should be a reality.

Coming Municipal Elections. Incidental to this matter, which is upper most in the Cuban mind, are the formative steps that will bring it about. The first of elections at an early date, was a subject ticularly with the United States officials on whole plan for making effective the scheme of municipal suffrage has to be very carefully worked out and the people instructed in all the details. This involves a vast amount of labor and takes considerable time, but ultimately will be worked out and the elections take place. I hardly believe, however, that the authorities will be quite ready for holding the elections by the first of May.

Secretary Root was not prepared to ven-ture an opinion as to just when he believed this government would grant com-plete independence to the Cubans. The declaration in the joint resolution of Congress, however, granting them full indeframing a constitution for the island and of framing a constitution for the island and its adoption by the people. Following this and the establish ent of a firm govern-ment in the Island, the Secretary felt would be time for the formal recognition of the independence of the island and the with-drawal of the assistance and supervision of the authorities of the United States.

Talk With the Leaders. Mr. Root said he made it a feature of his visit to talk with the leaders of what has been known as the revolutionary element and found that they are not impatient over a season of prosperity and that outside capital as well as much now there remaining uninvested because of the uncertainty that exists will find its way into the channels of trade and agriculture.

WANT ELECTIONS POSTPONED. Some Cubans Think May 1 Too Early to Hold Them.

A dispatch from Havana yesterday says: ome pressure has been brought to bear upon the cabinet secretaries to induce them to urge Gen. Wood to postpone elections from May 1 to some date in July. Thus far, however, this has been unavailing. Gen. Wood says the elections will certainly take place during May, although they may fall in the latter part of the month, owing to the brevity of the time for preparation. The Discusion, discussing the question of postponement, says:

"It would be a good thing to postpone the elections, seeing so much depends upon them and that so little has been done. A few weeks more or less of the continuance of intervention are of no importance. But what really does matter is that good municipalities should be chosen."

Gen. Wood has written to Senor Tamayo, secretary of government, directing him, in view of the approaching elections, to instruct all mayors to make returns of the approximate number of voters, bearing in mind the proposed restrictions, and also to make preparations for the elections. The mayors are to establish polling places at the rate of one for every 400 voters in the town, such places to be hired for four days, and good notice being given before the election day regarding the precise whereabouts of the places chosen. They are also to provide at least four booths, or retiring places, to which voters sha'l go to arrange their voting cards. In the country districts, if necessary, the number of polling places may exceed one for every 400 voters, as no voter must be required to travel more than eight miles to vote.

Maximo Gomez has addressed a letter to the committee which recently waited upon the bishop of Havana, Mgr. Sbaretti, to present a protest against his continuance in the bishopric. In the course of his letter he says the committee ought not to have cailed upon the bishop, but should have summoned him before it to hear the result of 'his own obstinacy and that of the pope.' Gen. Gomez goes on to say:

"Mgr. Sbaretti is not the just man I had previously believed him to be, for, if he were, he would not disturb a country so desolated by war troubles by insisting upon remaining at the head of the diocese of Havana. Cubans must not forget that the pope blessed the armies of Weyler. The pope and Mgr. Sbaretti will be responsible for the schism which will be produced in Cuba. If I were alone in the produced in Cuba. If I were alone in the produced in Cuba. If I were alone in the produced in Cuba. If I were alone in the produced in Cuba. On the other hand, a committee is being formed to protest against the action of the so-called popular committee which waited upon Mgr. Sbaretti.

The attention of Constable Vincent of Hyattsville was atthe railroad ties, and he took them to the office of Justice Carr. The truants told the magistrate and constable that they lived in this city. They said they were just taking a walk and would probably go as far as a wark and would probably go as in an Haltimore. Dauer gained the sympathy of the Maryland officers by telling them that he was an orphan and was on his way to Baltimore, hoping he would find some char-

When he got his clothes packed and had secured $40 for expenses, he learned he could not get a train coming this way until late in the day, and bought a ticket for Cincinnati. From there he came here by way of Pittsburg. Two days were spent on the train.

STEYN REPLIES TO ROBERTS.

He Denies Charge of Abuse of the White Flag. The following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, Monday, March 19, was posted at the war office in London yesterday:

"I have received the following reply to my telegram of March 11 to the presidents of the Free State and South African re-

"Your excellency's telegram reached me yesterday. I assure you nothing would grieve me more than that my burghers should make themselves guilty of a deed such should make themselves guilty of a deed such as that laid to their charge by you. I am, however, glad to say that you must have been mistaken. I have made personal inquiry of Gen. Delarey, who was in command of our burghers at the place mentioned by you. He denied entirely that our burghers acted as stated by you, but he says that on Saturday, the date being illegible, the British troops, when they were about fifty yards from our position, put up their hands as well as a white flag, while at the same time your cannon bombarded the said troops, with the result that Commandant De Beer was wounded. Yesterday morning the head commandant wrote in his account of the battle as follows: "The soldiers hoisted the white flag, but were then fired at by the English cannon and compelled to charge."

"Perhaps it is not known to your excellency that the same thing happened at charge."

"Perhaps it is not known to your excellency that the same thing happened at Spion Kop, where, when a portion of the troops hoisted a white flag and put up their hands, and while our burghers were busy disarming them, another portion of the troops fired on our burghers; but some of the British troops were killed. It has also been reported that at the last battle of the Tugela English cannon fired on troops who had surrendered.

Tugela English cannon fired on troops who had surrendered.

"With reference to the explosive bullets found in Cronje's laager and elsewhere, I can give your excellency assurance that such bullets were not purchased or allowed by the government. I, however, see no reason to doubt your statements, as I know many of the burghers of this state and of the South African republic took a large number of Lee-Metford rifles and dumdum and other bullets from British troops.

"May I request your excellency, as the cable is closed to me, to make my reply known to your government and the neutral powers by cable.

Winston Churchill, in a dispatch from Pietermaritzburg, warmly resists the contention that the relief of Ladysmith rose out of Lord Roberts' operations.
"On the contrary," he says, "the operations of Lord Roberts were assisted by the fact that Gen. Buller kept 16,000 Boers occupied. It would be a cruel and unworthy thing to deprive the Natal army of their hard won laurels and none would more vigorously repudiate such a suggestion than Lord Roberts himself."

Spenser Wilkinson, writing in the Morning Post, justifies Winston Churchill's argument respecting the relief of Ladysmith. He thinks that Sir Alfred Milner has gone to Bloemfotein to arrange for the permanent administration of the province and perhaps to decide about the captured and surrendered rebels.

There is no further information as to the movements of Sir Alfred Milner. It is regarded as certain, however, that he has gone to Bloemfontein to arrange for the temporary administration of the Free State.

O'Rourke, representing the Seaside Club, was also present with a check for $5,000, and with an offer of 60 per cent. Fitzsimmons said to Julian that he would accept the offer of Julian, and fight any man Julian would select. Julian said he was agreeable, but asked Fitzsimmons to name his man. Fitzsimmons named "Kid" McCoy.

WOMAN'S MISSION WORK MR. ROOT'S VISIT TO CUBA STARTED FOR KALAMAZOO CHANGES IN OHIO POLITICS

Under New Conditions.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 20, 1900. Political conditions change rapidly in made in the lines of the factions of the republican party here are startling even to he politicians themselves. The election of Senator Hanna after the hard fight given him by Charles L. Kurtz and his organization of anti-Hanna republicans was followed quickly by large defections from the ranks of the followers of Kurtz, and it was clear then that no considerable opposition to Senator Hanna could be again rallied about Kurtz. Harry M. Daugherty, placing himself at the head of a faction opposed to Senator Hanna, but with an entirely different personnel, became the recognized leader ent personnel, became the recognized leader of the anti-Harmaites of the state.

Contrary to expectations, no combination of the old disorganized forces of Kurtz and the faction at whose head Daugherty placed himself could be made. This was the weakness of the opposition to Nash for governor last fall. There seemed to be so many things in the campaign that operated against the republicans that it seemed likely that if any general co-operation of the old Kurtz faction with the Daugherty republicans, disgusted at the defeat of their leader for the nomination for governor, could be secured, the democrats would stand a good chance of electing John R. McLean.

Renson for McLean's Poor Vote.

Reason for McLean's Poor Vote. The poor showing McLean made in the election returns was due to the fact that the Kurtz and Daugherty factions mixed like oil and water, and the Kurtz republicans supported the regular republican ticket more loyally than the Daugherty faction did. The Kurtz faction republicans prefer to see their old enemies—the Hanna republicans, win rather than add to the strength of Daugherty's faction. Just now John R. Malloy, well known as Senator Hanna's lieutenant here, is working hand in hand with Charles L. Kurtz, to secure the nomination for secretary of state—the most important office to be filled this year, for L. C. Laylin of Norwalk, the candidate of Senator Hanna and favored by President. McKiniey, and opposing Howard Mannington, who is the candidate of the Daugherty raction.

Two years ago when the senatorial fight ended in Senator Hanna of the state committee, and the most ardent fighter for Senator Hanna in the state, declared in a speech at a joilification of administration republicans, that he would at once call his state central committee together for the purpose of demanding the resignation of state central committee together for the purpose of demanding the resignation of Charles L. Kurtz from the national committee as the representative of the republicans of Ohio. That was never done and today such a proposition would not be encouraged by Senator Hanna, in whose interest it was then proposed. est it was then proposed.

Result of the New Combination. The combination of the Hanna and Kurtz upon the question of the treatment of the appointees of Governor Bushnell whom Governor Nash finds in office. A large number of recess appointments made by Gov-ernor Bushnell were sent to the Senate during the last week of Governor Bushnell's term, and were sent to committees, where they have been lying ever since. It was generally agreed that most of these, all of generally agreed that most of these, all of the outspoken members of the Kurtz-Bushnell faction, should be rejected, and administration republicans substituted. This cannot be done now, because the leg-islature will adjourn about the middle of April, before the state convention meets, and the administration—determined to nom-inate Laylin for the head of the ticket, and depending in a large measure upon the sup-port of Kurtz and Bushnell to accomplish it, will not dare to break faith with Kurtz t, will not dare to break faith with Kurtz and Bushnell by turning their friends at appointees down. It is quite likely th Kurtz and Bushnell were induced to ma this peculiar combination with this result Though most of the county delegations Though most of the county delegations to the state convention that have now been chosen have been instructed for Mannington, it is the general opinion among well-posted and unbiased politicians here that Laylin will be the nominee for secretary of state. The state convention will be held on April 24 and 25. The democrats have not yet called their state convention.

TO AVOID DELAY.

Open Market in Porto Rico. Gen. Davis has been granted permission by Acting Secretary Meiklejohn to make purchases in the open market in Porto Rico. This is done on the recommendation of the governor general and in order to avoid the delay which would be occasioned by a strict conformity with the regulations requiring advertisements for proposals for government supplies, except in cases of emergencies. The present case is considered an emergency within the meaning of the regulations.

The purchase of supplies in the open market will serve a double purpose. It will give the suffering Porto Ricans relief supplies without delay and at the same time will add considerably to the monetary circulation of the island.
